

ROYAL SOUTH SIDE HASH HOUSE HARRIERS

Run 1761, 05th July 2007

Location: Repulse Bay

Hare: Smallbone

“The following is a true record of events as narrated by Gentlemen of the Hash.”

The Run

The American Independence Day run, setup by our true American Smallbone. The run started from Repulse Bay, went through the catch water up the hill and ended in Stanley (for most of us). However, Smegma decided to have his own run from Repulse Bay to Tai Tam. Apparently, the weather was much nicer over there and the route was more to his liking. It should be noted that SOS almost became the first to return, but sadly was taken over by Pussyfoot at the last minute.

The Pre-Circle

The following gentlemen were in attendance at the run/circle/drinks for the evening: Ice Dancer (the Hashmaster), SOS; Tinks; Pugak; Pussyfoot; Smallbone (Hare); Legal Flea; Rearend; Kiwi; Smegma; Squeak (non-runner) and Coco.

Before the circle commenced, everyone was agitated because we all were waiting to go to the best on-on ever, as promised by Smallbone. However, a few matters caused a huge delay. First, everyone was waiting for Smegma to finish his own run to Tai Tam. Second, our own Hash Master decided to start his run late and therefore was yet to return when the circle was called by SOS. Finally, SOS spent about an entire hour writing materials for his supposedly funniest circle ever.

Unfortunately, it was an hours effort wasted.

The Circle

SOS, before the return of our Honourable Hash Master, called the circle. Before Kiwi was greased as Amah, HM returned and the true power struggle pursued. It was obvious the HM was not pleased with SOS calling the circle, they then engaged in a long discussion. Thanks to modern technology, true record of that evening can now be seen. (See picture at end)

After the fight, it was decided that SOS would continue to carry on his circle while HM refused to take part in it. Since then, SOS started calling his down-downs from the floor. Despite the best attempt made by the Scribe to record all the down-downs, none could be made because they were either too confusing or too unfunny to the point it was not worth noting down at all. In any event, the following have the down-downs: Tinks, Smallbone, Coco, Smegma and Rearend.

During the circle, Kiwi, as an Amah, was greased more than four times. The original rule of changing Amah after four ‘greasings’ was abolished by the HM, once again after the power struggle within the management.

Later on, HM decided to take over to save the circle from SOS’s funniest down-downs. Smallbone and Rearend were asked to drink for providing good quality American Beer (which a huge abundance was found after the circle) and Legal Flea received the award for having the best dress code. Shirtless people (Tinks, Coco and Smegma) also received their fair share of down-downs.

When things were dying down and HM asked whether there was any announcement, a very eager hasher raised his hand and said 'me, me'. When all attention was drawn to him and after he finished his down-down, Tinks asked the HM's permission to marry his Apple. After much discussion, permission was granted. The Scribe was told that Tinks is now officially the first Southsider to ask for permission to marry a fruit. Congratulations to Tinks once again

The circle was then dismissed and we went to the promised best on-on ever. The location of the best on-on was Pepperoni's in Stanley, having pizza in celebration of the Independence Day. The on-on continued to Smuggler's where numerous beers were consumed.

Next Week's Run

Next week's run will be set by Kiwi from the waterfront at Kwun Hoi Path, next to the Aberdeen Tennis & Squash Centre on Aberdeen Praya Road
